Opening Ceremony

Today is a very important day because most competitors will meet for the first time at the competition room for the practice session.

Still some competitors are on their way due mostly to the recent restrictions in airlines worldwide.

To the closure of this edition: Syria, Trinidad, United Arab, Sri Lanka, Nigeria, Luxemburg, Moldova, Lithuania, Algeria, Greece, Hungary, Czech Republic, Cyprus, Colombia, Azerbaijan, Bulgaria, Chile, France, India and Switzerland were delayed.

After the practice session, we will have the Opening Ceremony in the same building.

As a special way to meet the other countries, Juan Francisco has been doing picture sessions with all the delegations, so that their picture can be shown on the big screens and the competitors get to know each other before the competition starts.

Also the flags of your country will be shown together with a small introduction to your national anthem.

If you brought a hat representative of your country, please bring it to the opening ceremony, so that you can stand up and wear it when your country is introduced.

Convention Center "Siglo XXI"

The practice session and competition will be held at the Convention Center "Siglo XXI" (pronounced "Siglo Veintiuno") which will be abbreviated for this publication as SXXI.

We will be mostly using the "Chichen-Itzá" room.

Convention Center is about 15 to 20 minutes away by car or bus, so you need to get into the shuttles in order to get there. It's not near by walking distance.

Buses will be departing tomorrow for the Practice Session at 9 am. Please be there by 8:45 am so you don't miss the bus, because there will be no late departures.

For the guests, Carnavallito buses will be taking tours to downtown, and to the CC SXXI at 11:30 am.

Opening Ceremony

Get your picture taken

We will have the presence of the Yucatán Governor at the opening ceremony. We will also have folkloric mexican dances.

During the lunch there will be a Mexican trio. Hope you all enjoy it!

Juan Francisco is preparing a flash presentation with the pictures of all the competitors and a small fragment of the national anthem.

If you haven't taken your picture yet, please do so at the registration room during breakfast (otherwise it will be too late)

Also please check that your national anthem is correct. If you don't want to be in the flash presentation, please also tell Juan Francisco to be removed from it.

IOI 2006 Logo

The IOI 2006 logo has a lot of Mayan elements. Including the game ball, the Chac Mol (where some human sacrifices were done),

The Kukulcan Column and the Mayan numbers. You will meet Chac Mol and the rest of the stuff on Friday when you go to Chichen Itzá.

THE IOI 2006 LOGO

Did you know that

Game Ball winners in the time of the Chac-Mol, were sacrificed as an offer to the gods? Not the losers but the winners! And it was an honor. Weird, huh?

2006 in Mayan

this means that; $6 + 0 + 2000 = 2006$

This is the 2006 in Mayan numbers

The Maya's numbering system is based in 20.

NEWSLETTER

Are you feeling a little stressed?

Don't worry! Right at the Holiday Inn Hotel we have something that might chill you out, our very own game room.

The game room's full of wonderful distractions and it is also a perfect place to make new friends.

Right here you can also find something we all know you love, computers.

The game room has something for every taste. You can play from football to ping pong to cards or board games.

It doesn't matter at which hotel you're staying, everyone's welcome to come in and play.

Are you feeling a little stressed?
Tired? Confused? Overwhelmed?
Homesick? Lonely?

also find something we all know you love, computers.

Balero: The nose breaker

This is barely our second day at the IOI and some people already learned how to play with our traditional balero (although you may also call it nose breaker).

This toy is made of wood and the main objective is to be able to catch the big mass right in top of the stick after throwing it.

Some contestants have already gotten the hang of it.

Keep trying and let's see who gets it by the end of the week. You may even defeat some Mexican people who, just like me, haven't been able to do it even if they have tried for years.

Meet your guides

Your guides are ready to help you in any thing you need. Please ask them for help to get around the city, to ask for a special meal, to learn about Mexican culture, and to anything you may need during the IOI.

GA Meetings started

Leaders and deputy leaders got together to approve the contest rules and confirm the IOI 2005 Minutes at the Yucatán Room 3 and 4 at the Fiesta Americana Hotel

We asked some contestants a little bit about their teams and their first impressions on the IOI this year.

Azerbaijan

"Azerbaijan has participated since 1994. We have good expectations for this. We've been preparing for the contest all year long. We had problems with visas and stuff in the airport, and we are also tired so maybe that's going to affect the results, but we'll see. About Mexico, well we've seen only Merida and we think it's a very nice city. There's like silence in the street but we heard lots of birds in the morning... and it's really hot" (Aykhan Aliev, Akshin Salimov, Afgan Abbasov).

Israel

"This is our 11th year at the IOI, our country has been participating since 1996. Our expectations are to win three gold and one silver. This is our first time in Mexico. Is a nice place".

Kuwait

"This is the 17th time our country participates in this event. We are three contestants and we hope to win a medal. Our country hasn't won one yet. Is our first time here in Mexico, for the first impression I would say is a nice country with nice people. We like the weather, not too cold, not too hot" (Majid ALQabandi, Abdulaziz ALOtaibi, Jafar Abdurassoul).

If you want to visit anywhere in Merida, be sure to bring your guide with you and if you're planning to take a bus don't forget to ask the driver where it's heading. You might find yourself lost somewhere in Merida.

Also, try to always have a water bottle with you (especially if you're not used to this kind of weather) avoiding dehydration will make everyone's stay easier even if it is quite hot in here.

The Indonesian team tried some Mexican food at the Mall and they

Mexican Sauces and Tortilla

As rice for Asians, Tortilla is a main component of a typical Mexican meal. In fact, Aztecs used to eat mostly tortillas with beans and salt.

In Mérida you can have tortillas together with the very hot and spicy habanero sauce, you will find at your dining table at the hotel buffettes.
